

SLANGLISH

Dictionary

In a time when digital communication shapes relationships, this game offers a lighthearted yet meaningful way to enhance understanding, spark conversations, and strengthen connections between parents, teachers, and teens. Its motto is simple: learn, laugh, and connect, one slang at a time.

The Slangish Dictionary is a fun and easy-to-understand guide to the slang and expressions commonly used in today's world. It captures how language has evolved through digital culture, social media, and everyday interactions. Each entry explains what the term means and how it is used in real conversations, helping readers make sense of the words and phrases that shape modern communication. The dictionary is designed for anyone who wants to understand, relate to, or simply enjoy the creativity of new-age language. It also serves as a useful companion to the Slangish Crossword game, helping players learn as they play.

How to Use

- Explore the Words

Flip through the dictionary and read each entry to understand how modern slang is used in daily conversations.

- Use it for the Crossword

When playing the Slangish Crossword, refer to this dictionary to understand meanings, confirm answers, or learn how a slang term fits into a given situation.

- Learn Through Examples

Each word comes with examples to show how it naturally appears in speech or online. Use them to understand tone and context.

- Share and Discuss

Talk about the words with friends, family, or students. Compare how different generations interpret or use the same slang.

Rules of Use

- Use it for Learning

The dictionary is meant to help you understand language, not misuse or mock it. Appreciate the creativity behind modern expressions.

- Be Mindful of Context

Some slang can change meaning depending on tone or culture. Always consider where and how it is used before trying it yourself.

- Avoid Overuse

Knowing slang is fun, but using too much of it can sound unnatural. The goal is to understand and communicate better, not to overdo it.

- Stay Curious

Language keeps changing, and new slang appears all the time. Keep exploring, stay open-minded, and enjoy the evolution of communication.

Language keeps changing, and so do we. Keep learning, keep connecting, and keep the conversation going.

SLANGISH

Dictionary

🔊 Adulting

Describes doing responsible, grown-up tasks like paying bills or cooking dinner. It's often used humorously to show how tiring being an adult can be.

Examples

To describe daily responsibilities:

"I did laundry, paid my bills, and cooked. I'm adulting today."

To express exhaustion:

"Adulting is hard. I need a nap."

To share pride in responsibility:

"Bought my first car. I'm officially adulting."

SLANGISH

Dictionary

🔊 Ate

A compliment meaning someone did exceptionally well, usually in performance, style, or delivery. If someone "ate," they impressed everyone and left nothing to improve.

Examples

To praise performance:

"She ate that dance routine."

To compliment style:

"Her outfit ate. She looks incredible."

To describe confidence:

"He gave that speech and ate. No notes."

SLANGISH

Dictionary

🔊 Aura

Used to describe someone's overall vibe or energy. It refers to the feeling a person gives off when they walk into a room. It's about presence and personality more than appearance.

Examples

To describe a strong presence:

"She has such a calm aura. Everyone feels relaxed around her."

To compliment someone's vibe:

"His aura is just different. You can feel it."

To describe personality energy:

"She gives off a confident aura wherever she goes."

SLANGISH

Dictionary

🔊 Bae

A term of endearment meaning "baby" or "before anyone else." It's used for someone special, like a partner, crush, or sometimes jokingly for something you love.

Examples

To refer to a partner:

"Going out for dinner with bae tonight."

To express affection:

"My dog is my bae."

To joke about love for things:

"Chocolate is bae."

SLANGISH

Dictionary

🔊 Basic

Used to describe someone or something that is unoriginal, predictable, or follows mainstream trends too closely. It often means lacking individuality.

Examples

To describe common habits:

"She orders pumpkin spice every season. So basic."

To tease for being too trendy:

"He's basic for wearing the same shoes as everyone else."

To call out lack of originality:

"That playlist is kinda basic."

SLANGISH

Dictionary

🔊 Bet

A casual way to say 'sure' or 'okay.' It can also be used with more energy, almost like 'you got it' or 'deal.' Sometimes, it's used as a challenge, like 'watch me prove you wrong.'

Examples

To agree to a plan:

"Wanna meet at 5?" - "Bet."

To show excitement in agreement:

"You're bringing pizza?" - "Bet, that's perfect!"

To accept a challenge:

"You can't beat me." - "Bet."

SLANGISH

Dictionary

🔊 Boomer

Originally short for "Baby Boomer," it's now often used by younger people to describe someone who seems old-fashioned, out of touch, or resistant to change. It's not always about age but attitude.

Examples

To tease someone for being old-school:

"He still uses Facebook for everything. Total boomer."

To comment on outdated habits:

"Calling instead of texting is such a boomer move."

To describe an old-fashioned opinion:

"That's such a boomer thing to say."

SLANGISH

Dictionary

🔊 Boujee

Short for "bourgeois," it refers to someone who likes expensive, classy, or fancy things. It can be used seriously or playfully, depending on the tone.

Examples

To describe expensive taste:

"She only drinks sparkling water. So boujee."

To tease a friend:

"You brought truffle oil to the picnic? That's boujee."

To show pride in style:

"I know it's boujee, but I like it."

Dictionary

Brh

A casual expression used to show disbelief, frustration, or surprise. It's similar to saying "Seriously?" or "Come on," and can fit almost any reaction, whether it's annoyance, shock, or humor.

Examples

To express disbelief:

"Bruh, you really forgot your own birthday?"

To react to something ridiculous:

"Bruh, that's the worst excuse ever."

To express disappointment or exhaustion:

"Bruh, I can't deal with this right now."

Dictionary

Bussin

Means something is really, really good. It's most often used for food but can describe anything impressive or exciting.

Examples

To describe delicious food:

"This pizza is bussin."

To express excitement:

"That outfit is bussin, not gonna lie."

To compliment an experience:

"The party last night was bussin."

Dictionary

Cancelled

Used when someone is publicly rejected or boycotted for doing something offensive or wrong. It can also be used jokingly among friends to call someone out for small mistakes.

Examples

To talk about public backlash:

"The internet cancelled him after that comment."

To tease a friend:

"You forgot my birthday? You're cancelled."

To express disapproval:

"That brand is cancelled for what they did."

Dictionary

Cap

Means a lie or something untrue.

Examples

To call out dishonesty:

"He said he ran 10 miles this morning. That's cap."

Dictionary

Clapback

A clever or sharp response to criticism or insult. It usually shuts down the other person with confidence and wit.

Examples

To respond confidently:

"She told him his outfit looked bad, and his clapback was iconic."

To describe a comeback online:

"Her tweet was the perfect clapback to the haters."

To praise someone's reaction:

"That was a clean clapback. She handled that well."

Dictionary

Clout

Means influence, fame, or popularity, especially online. It's often used to describe people who do things just to get attention or followers.

Examples

To describe social media popularity:

"She posts every day for clout."

To call out attention-seeking:

"He only hangs out with famous people for clout."

To acknowledge influence:

"He has real clout in the music scene."

Dictionary

Cooked

Used when someone is completely exhausted, done for, or in a hopeless situation. It can also mean they messed up badly. In gaming or slang chats, it can mean "defeated."

Examples

To describe exhaustion:

"I've been working all day. I'm cooked."

To talk about failure:

"He forgot the project deadline. He's cooked."

To describe being outmatched:

"They lost 10-0. Cooked."

Dictionary

Dead

A reaction word used when something is so funny or shocking that it leaves you speechless or "dead" from laughter. It's exaggerated but playful.

Examples

To react to humor:

"That meme was so funny, I'm dead."

To describe surprise:

"She actually showed up in pajamas. I'm dead."

To express disbelief:

"I'm dead. He really said that?"

Dictionary

🔊 Delulu

Short for “delusional.” Used humorously to describe someone who’s overly optimistic, in denial, or imagining a situation that doesn’t exist, especially in dating or fandoms.

Examples

To joke about unrealistic hope:

“She thinks he likes her just because he smiled once. She’s delulu.”

To tease a friend:

“You’re delulu if you think you’ll win that contest.”

To describe wishful thinking:

“I’m delulu, but I believe I can pull off that outfit.”

Dictionary

🔊 Drip

Refers to stylish fashion or a trendy outfit. Can also be used specifically for flashy accessories like jewelry. Someone with “drip” is seen as fashionable and confident.

Examples

To compliment someone’s outfit:

“Bro, that jacket is drip.”

To admire overall style:

“Her drip is always on point.”

To point out flashy accessories:

“Look at his chain, that’s serious drip.”

Dictionary

🔊 Extra

Used to describe someone who is being overly dramatic, doing too much, or acting in an exaggerated way. It can apply to behavior, reactions, or even fashion and can be both teasing and affectionate.

Examples

To call out over-the-top behavior:

“She brought a ring light to lunch. She’s so extra.”

To describe dramatic reactions:

“He started crying over a small spill. That’s extra.”

To praise someone’s flair:

“She’s extra, but that’s what makes her fun.”

Dictionary

🔊 Facts

Used to strongly agree with something or to emphasize that a statement is completely true. It’s a quick way to say “You’re absolutely right.”

Examples

To agree with someone:

“She said self-care isn’t selfish. Facts.”

To show support for a statement:

“That’s the best advice I’ve heard. Facts.”

To emphasize truth:

“Hard work pays off. Facts.”

Dictionary

🔊 Fam

Short for “family,” but used to mean close friends who feel like family. Sometimes, it’s also used casually as a greeting for anyone, even if they’re not that close.

Examples

To greet friends warmly:

“What’s up, fam?”

To emphasize closeness:

“I can always count on my fam.”

To greet casually:

“Yo fam, how you been?”

Dictionary

🔊 Fire

Used to describe something that’s amazing, impressive, or top quality. Can apply to food, music, fashion, or even talent. Youth often say “straight fire” or just use the 🔥 emoji.

Examples

To praise something good:

“This song is fire!”

To hype up style or talent:

“Your dance moves are fire.”

To emphasize excellence:

“That performance was straight fire.”

Dictionary

🔊 Flex

Means to show off something, whether it’s money, clothes, achievements, or confidence. It can be used seriously to brag or playfully to celebrate success.

Examples

To show off material things:

“He’s flexing his new car on Instagram.”

To brag subtly:

“She’s casually flexing her promotion.”

To express confidence:

“Rocking that outfit like it’s nothing. That’s a flex.”

Dictionary

🔊 Ghosting

When someone suddenly stops replying to messages or cuts off communication without warning. It usually happens in dating or friendships and feels like the person has disappeared without an explanation.

Examples

To describe being ignored:

“He just stopped texting me. Total ghosting.”

To talk about ending communication:

“She ghosted after our second date.”

To express confusion or hurt:

“I don’t get why he ghosted me out of nowhere.”

Dictionary

🔊 GOAT

An acronym for "Greatest of All Time."
Used to praise someone who is exceptionally good at what they do, often in sports, music, or pop culture.

Examples

To give ultimate praise:

"Messi is the GOAT of football."

To admire someone's skill:

"Her vocals are insane. She's the GOAT."

To use casually among friends:

"You brought snacks for everyone? You're the GOAT."

Dictionary

🔊 Highkey

The opposite of "lowkey." It means being open or obvious about something. It can also mean "definitely" or "for real."

Examples

To express strong feelings:

"I highkey love this song.."

To admit something openly:

"He's highkey obsessed with his new car."

To show clear excitement:

"That trip was highkey the best weekend ever."

Dictionary

🔊 Karen

Used to describe a person, usually a middle-aged woman, who acts entitled, rude, or demanding, especially toward service workers or in public situations. It's about behavior, not gender or age.

Examples

To call out rude behavior:

"She yelled at the waiter for no reason. Such a Karen."

To describe entitlement:

"He complained about the free Wi-Fi. Total Karen moment."

To warn playfully:

"Don't be a Karen. Just relax"

Dictionary

🔊 Lowkey

Used to describe something done quietly or secretly. It can also mean feeling or thinking something without wanting to make a big deal about it. It's like saying "kind of" or "a little bit," but with a tone of subtlety.

Examples

To describe something kept quiet:

"I lowkey love watching old cartoons."

To admit a hidden feeling:

"She's lowkey nervous about the test."

To express mild enthusiasm:

"That movie was lowkey amazing."

Dictionary

🔊 Periodt

An emphatic way to end a statement, like saying "and that's final." The "t" at the end adds extra emphasis or sass. It means there is no room for debate.

Examples

To stress certainty:

"I'm not apologizing for speaking the truth, periodt."

To show finality in an argument:

"You deserve better, periodt."

To hype up confidence:

"She owned that stage, periodt."

Dictionary

🔊 Pressed

Describes someone who is overly upset, bothered, or stressed. Sometimes it's also used to mean jealous or envious.

Examples

To describe overreacting:

"She got so pressed just because I didn't text back right away."

To highlight jealousy:

"He's pressed that you got more followers than him."

To show unnecessary stress:

"She's pressed about losing one round in the game."

Dictionary

🔊 Rizz

Short for "charisma," it means having charm or smoothness, especially when talking to someone you're interested in. Someone with "rizz" knows how to impress without trying too hard.

Examples

To describe natural charm:

"He has so much rizz. Everyone likes talking to him."

To talk about flirting skill:

"His pickup lines have zero rizz."

To compliment confidence:

"She pulled that off with pure rizz."

Dictionary

🔊 Salty

When someone is bitter, annoyed, or holding a grudge, usually about something small or petty.

Examples

To tease someone being petty:

"You're salty just 'cause I beat you at cards."

To describe low-key irritation:

"She's salty that I got the last slice of cake."

Dictionary

🔊 Savage

Describes someone who is bold, confident, and unapologetic, especially when they say or do something blunt or brutally honest. It can also describe something daring or impressive.

Examples

To describe confidence:

"She told him off in front of everyone. That was savage."

To praise fearlessness:

"He handled that situation like a savage."

To admire blunt honesty:

"Her comebacks are savage every time."

Dictionary

🔊 Shade

A subtle or indirect insult, often disguised as a compliment. Throwing shade means making someone look bad without saying it outright.

Examples

To describe an indirect insult:

"She was totally throwing shade when she said, 'Not everyone can pull off that look.'"

To comment on attitude:

"He threw shade at his ex during the interview."

To describe indirect criticism:

"There was so much shade in that post."

Dictionary

🔊 Shook

Feeling shocked, surprised, or unsettled. It can also describe being emotionally overwhelmed by something powerful, like a concert or a big reveal.

Examples

To react to unexpected news:

"When she said she was moving abroad, I was shook."

To show amazement:

"That movie ending left me shook."

To describe emotional impact:

"The concert had me shook, I almost cried."

Dictionary

🔊 Simp

Someone who goes overboard for a crush, giving too much attention or effort. It can be used seriously or jokingly among friends, even if the person isn't really a simp.

Examples

To tease a friend:

"You bought her coffee every day this week? Bro, you're such a simp."

To describe excessive effort:

"He cancels his plans just because she asked. Simp behavior."

To joke playfully:

"You held the door open? Simp!"

Dictionary

🔊 Slaps

Means something is really good, especially music or food. If something "slaps," it's enjoyable, catchy, or impressive.

Examples

To describe a great song:

"This track slaps so hard."

To compliment food:

"That burger slaps."

To praise an experience:

"The new season slaps. It's so good."

Dictionary

🔊 Snack

Playfully describes someone who looks attractive like they're "good enough to eat." Youth may exaggerate this to say "a whole meal" or "a buffet" for someone extremely attractive.

Examples

To compliment someone's looks:

"Did you see him at the party? Total snack."

To hype up a friend:

"You look like a whole snack in that outfit."

To exaggerate attraction:

"He's not just a snack, he's a whole meal."

Dictionary

🔊 Stan

Means to be an extremely dedicated fan of someone or something. It can be used as a noun ("I'm a stan") or a verb ("I stan her"). It started from the Eminem song Stan but now simply means strong admiration.

Examples

To express strong admiration:

"I totally stan this singer. Her songs never miss."

To identify as a fan:

"I'm a Taylor Swift stan, no doubt."

To praise someone's actions:

"She's so confident. I stan her energy."

Dictionary

🔊 Thirsty

Refers to someone who shows too much interest, attention, or desperation, usually in a romantic or social context. It can also describe a person who tries too hard to get validation or attention.

Examples

To describe desperation for attention:

"He keeps commenting on every post she makes. So thirsty."

To tease romantic eagerness:

"She liked all his pictures in one go. That's thirsty."

To call out attention-seeking:

"He's posting selfies every hour. Kind of thirsty behavior."